BUSHFIRE RECOVERY
VICTORIA

LOCAL ECONOMIC RECOVERY PROGRAM

a guide to your application

WHAT'S THE LER PROGRAM?

The $68.6 million Local Economic Recovery (LER) program is jointly funded by the Australian & Victorian Governments and will fund local projects vital for community recovery, support economic stimulus projects, and boost industry and jobs across bushfire-affected regions.

"Bushfire affected communities have suffered from multiple disasters this year, but we're determined to support local ideas and help these communities come out the other side better. Decisions about where this funding goes will continue to be shaped and influenced by the communities that stand to benefit."

Commonwealth Minister for Agriculture,
Drought and Emergency Management
David Littleproud

"We're putting the call out for big ideas to boost industry, infrastructure and tourism, and we're also putting the call out for those smaller, local community projects which build a sense of community pride and connectedness, and encourage visitors to stop by town and shop locally."

Victorian Minister for Police and Emergency Services,
Lisa Neville

WHERE WILL FUNDING GO?

After extensive consultation with local communities, the Australian and Victorian Governments have allocated the available funding across two streams - a local community stream and a regional economic stream:

LOCAL COMMUNITY STREAM

$26.6 million Local Community Project Grants

REGIONAL ECONOMIC STREAM

$34 million Regional Economic Stimulus & Resilience Grants

$8 million Regional Economic Programs Fund

LOCAL COMMUNITY PROJECT GRANTS
